5 PLAYER REGISTRATION

5.1 The QBA Registrar must ensure that an accurate register is kept of the playing personnel of each Queensland band which is qualified to compete at contests administered by the QBA. This document is to be clearly labelled as the “Player Registration Database” (Register).

- 5.2 This document will exist in electronic format, and for the purposes of version control the version currently in the possession of the QBA Registrar will be considered the official register. For the purposes of the remaining by-laws this document will be referred to as the “Register”.
- 5.3 A band is qualified for entry in the Register if it is a band which is formed by an association which is an ordinary member of the QBA. There is no limit to the number of bands which each member association may register for contesting purposes, but each association can register a player with only one (1) of its contesting bands. Once a player has changed registration between bands they cannot be transferred back for eighteen (18) months from the date of transfer.
- 5.4 The QBA will not enter a player into the Register where it is satisfied that this player is registered as a player in another Australian State. A player who is a registered player in an overseas band may, however, be entered into the Register if they fulfil the criteria in 5.8 and 5.12.
- 5.5 A player on the Register who moves interstate or overseas for fulltime study may remain on the Register with their Queensland band for the duration of that study. If the study is undertaken in another State, they may only remain on the QBA Register if they refrain from registering as a contesting member of an interstate band. Students who study overseas, however, will not need to relinquish their QBA registration if they register as a contesting member of an overseas band. The QBA may require any player affected by this by-law to furnish full details of their course of study. The QBA Management Committee has full and binding discretion to make determinations as to the bona fides of players under this by-law.
- 5.6 Despite by-law 5.7, a player may be registered with more than one (1) band in the Register in the following circumstances only:
 - 5.6.1 A player may be registered with up to; one (1) brass band, one (1) concert band and one (1) school band, simultaneously.
 - 5.6.2 Dual student registration - A player may (at the discretion of the QBA Management Committee) be registered with two (2) Queensland brass or concert bands if they are required to move away from their usual place of residence in order to undertake tertiary study in another place in Queensland.
 - 5.6.2.1 The distance between the two places must be more than one hundred (100) km.
 - 5.6.2.2 The player will remain on the Register as a member of the home band unless that band advises the Registrar that the player is no longer to be registered with the home band.
 - 5.6.2.3 If the second band wishes to register a player as a dual student registration, it is the responsibility of that band to make the application and to ensure that all the provisions of this by-law are complied with. The secretary of the second band must contact the QBA Registrar as - soon as practicable to determine what records and information will be required before dual student registration is permitted.

- 5.6.2.4 In order to qualify for dual student registration, the second band of the student concerned must advise the QBA Management Committee of all the relevant details of the course of study as requested.
- 5.6.2.5 Once the student completes, terminates or postpones the course of study, the secretary of the second band must notify the QBA Registrar immediately. The dual student registration will then terminate and the player concerned must nominate which band they wish to remain registered with.
- 5.7 Players are entered into the Register as members of a band. No 'unattached' players are to be entered into the Register.
- 5.8 In order to be entered into the Register, a player must be:
- 5.8.1 an Australian citizen (but may reside anywhere in the world), or

- 5.10 Other band personnel, such as conductors or drum majors, must appear as players in the Register in order to compete as players with their band.
- 5.11 Where a band has sufficient junior playing members within their band to form a Junior Band these members are allowed to compete as a Junior Band in a Junior Band Contest as well as being playing members of their own Senior Band for Contests purposes, their date of birth to be shown on the registration declaration sheet of the Senior Band. Once the band enters two (2) Senior Bands from the one (1) membership, each band is considered to hold its own identity.
- 5.12 Amendments of and entries into the Register, which are intended to take effect for any particular contest, will close forty-two (42) days prior to the date of that contest.

- 5.13 Players cannot transfer their registration back to their previous band until eighteen (18) months from the date of the previous transfer.

- 10.2 The Protest Committee for any contest includes the QBA Contest Delegates for that contest and may include one member of the local contest committee and any other members of the QBA Management Committee available at that contest.
- 10.3 The Protest Committee must consist of at least three (3) people. The Protest Committee is to be chaired by the most senior member of the QBA Management Committee who is a Contest Delegate for that contest.
- 10.4 A person cannot be a member of the Protest Committee if they are a person lodging a protest, a member of a band lodging a protest, a person protested against, or a member of a band protested against. A person can be a member of the Protest Committee if they simply competed in an event which is subject to a protest.

- 10.5 A decision of the Protest Committee can only be appealed at the next scheduled meeting of the QBA Management Committee, at which meeting the matter will be dealt with according to the QBA's Constitution.

Who may lodge a protest?

- 10.6 A protest can only be lodged with the Protest Committee by:
- 10.6.1 In the case of solo or ensemble events, any competitor in such an event, providing the protest is in regard to an event that the competitor actually played in.
 - 10.6.2 A member of the management committee of any competing band, providing the protest is in regard to an event that the band actually competed in.

What can be protested about?

- 10.7 A protest can only be a claim that a competitor in an event is either not qualified to compete in that event, as a result of the contest rules or of these by-laws; or that a competitor in an event has breached contest rule/s or one of these by-laws. A protest relating to any matter not expressly dealt with in those contest rules or in these by-laws must not be considered by the Protest Committee.

Lodging protests

- 10.8 A protest is lodged when a person qualified to do so by virtue of by-law 10.6, makes a written Notice of Protest to any Contest Delegate. (Contest Delegates are members of the QBA Management Committee.)
- 10.9 A Notice of Protest must include the name of the party lodging the protest, the name of the party protested against and a brief explanation of the nature of the protest. It is not necessary to cite exact rule or by-law numbers in a Notice of Protest.
- 10.10 A protest can only be lodged after the end of any event it relates to. No protests can be made to the Protest Committee before an event.
- 10.11 No protest will be considered where the Notice of Protest is lodged more than twenty (20) minutes after the announcement of result for the relevant event. Once this period has expired, all results will be deemed to be valid.
- 10.12 In the case of protests about a solo event, a fee of $20 must be paid at the time of lodging the Notice of Protest. If the protest is successful, the fee will be refunded. If the protest is unsuccessful, the fee will be retained and will form part of the revenue of the contest for the local contest committee.
- 10.13 In the case of protests about a band, a fee of $50 must be paid at the time of lodging the Notice of Protest. If the protest is successful, the fee will be refunded. If the protest is unsuccessful, the fee will be retained and will form part of the revenue of the contest for the local contest committee.

Deciding a protest

- 10.14 Once a protest is lodged, a Protest Committee must be formed to deal with the matter as soon as is practicable on that day. It is the responsibility of the senior Contest Delegate in attendance to form the Protest Committee, to preside over its deliberation and to make known its decisions.

- 10.15 The Protest Committee will determine the protest in a closed meeting. During this meeting both the person lodging the protest and representatives of those protested against will be invited to explain their cases to the committee. The Protest Committee will then make its decision in the absence of these representatives.
- 10.16 In the case of a solo protest, the representatives will include the person lodging the protest and any one (1) other person they may wish to nominate. The same condition applies to any solo competitor protested about.
- 10.17 In the case of a band event, the representatives will include any two (2) people nominated by the band lodging the protest. The same condition applies to any band protested about.
- 10.18 In addition to the submission made by the representatives listed above, the Protest Committee may inform itself about the matter in any way it considers necessary to fairly and efficiently deal with the protest.

Results of a protest

- 10.19 If a protest is dismissed by the Protest Committee, that finding is to be communicated to all parties concerned as soon as is practicable. The matter is then closed unless a grievance is lodged in accordance with the QBA's constitution at the next meeting of the QBA Management Committee.
- 10.20 If a protest is upheld by the Protest Committee, then the committee must determine the consequences for the persons and competitors involved immediately. There is no prescribed list of penalties or sanctions to be applied once a protest is upheld, and the committee must determine a penalty that it believes is fair, just and equitable in all the circumstances. Penalties may include retrospective disqualification from a completed event, a written reprimand, return of prize money and/or trophies or any other action the Protest Committee considers appropriate. There is no expectation that any successful protest will result in the automatic disqualification of the party protested against.
- 10.21 What effect the outcome of any protest has on an event or contest is to be determined by the Protest Committee and this outcome is to be communicated to the contest committee as soon as is practicable.
